SYMPOSIUM ON RECENT ADVANCES IN SPEECH PROSODY RESEARCH

Venue : GG301, Dept. of Electrical Engineering , IITB

Indian Institute of Technology Bombay

in collaboration with

International Speech Communication

Association (ISCA)

ABOUT THE SYMPOSIUM

Speech Prosody is a multi-disciplinary area of research that spans fields as diverse as linguistics, signal processing, speech technology and psychology. Prosody refers to the properties of speech as they apply at larger time scales such as that of words and sentences. It serves to communicate linguistic meaning as well as speaker attitude and emotion. In this symposium, we present talks by eminent researchers exploring a number of fascinating aspects of speech prosody.
