

delay_onestep.gce

Attributes

mainvars: x y

Description

`delay_onestep.gce` is used to produce an output `y` which is delayed by one time step with respect to the input `x`. It can only be used when the method parameter `constant_step` in a solve block is set to `yes`.

AC behaviour is not implemented.